Brownstones to Red Dirt

Directed by Dave LaMattina & Chad Walker

75 min. Sierra Leone/U S A, 2009

The film uses interviews and letters to show the factors that have shaped the children's lives are remarkably similar, despite the differences of their experiences. Four pairs of pen pals show how these two "lost" groups will help one another find their way through an increasingly complex and confusing world. Each pair of pen pals highlights a major issue faced by kids across the world. Isaiah and Abdul teach us about family. Isaiah's father left him as a baby while the rebel commander that killed Abdul's parents then adopted him. Malik and Balla use their art, not vengeance, to heal. Augusta may live miles away in Sierra Leone, but her lesson of what it means to be a friend reaches Destiny in Brooklyn. Fred and Emmanuel, both victims of damning stereotypes attached to being a young black male from the inner city and a war orphan struggling in a third world country, defy expectations to improve the world around them. As their friendship grows, so does their sense of responsibility. The students in Brooklyn decide to have a fundraiser barbecue, a block party of sorts, which raised enough money to buy school supplies and mattresses for their friends. And, in one final surprise, they watched as the kids in Sierra Leone—orphans once living in a leaky tin shack—were actually placed in an apartment paid for by their hard work. In the end, the lessons they learned—and taught—were simple: friendship knows no boundaries and a child's compassion knows no limit.

Blau Jeans

Directed by Meaghan Kimball

51 min. U S A / Germany, 2009

American popular culture cast a spell on Europe that has never worn off. Blau Jeans, a new one-hour documentary by Meaghan Kimball, shows how this spell both charms and afflicts Berlin, one of contemporary Europe's most dynamic cultural centers. We see how profoundly America has influenced German identity over the past 60 years—and how much Germans hate to admit it. Renowned artists, filmmakers, actors, and scholars candidly discuss their first contact with America and how it continues to shape their lives. From Hip-Hop to Google, Star Wars to George W. Bush, a fascinating picture emerges of a country whose battles have become internal, with one side revering America's generosity and innovation and the other disdaining its arrogance and superficiality. The striking soundtrack features German acclaimed BMG electronic artists 2raumwohnung and Universal Classic Music oboist Albrecht Mayer accompanied by the Berlin Philharmonic. Blau Jeans is a vivid, entertaining, and provocative look at how one country views the nation that can be loved or hated but never ignored. 2009 Achtung Berlin Film Festival - European Premiere 2010 Rhode Island International Film Festival - American Premiere

Hidden Battles

Directed by Victoria Mills

65 min. Bosnia and Herzegovina, Israel, Nicaragua, Palestinian Territories, U S A, United Kingdom, 2010

HIDDEN BATTLES, a one-hour documentary, is a dramatic and deeply personal film about the psychological impact of killing on the lives of soldiers. The soldiers represent a cross section of nationalities, gender, class and race. In HIDDEN BATTLES, we are invited into their homes, jobs, relationships, and minds, as they unveil intimate memories and unconscious revelations about the central act of war - the killing of another human being. What happens when time and memory challenge these carefully constructed beliefs? How do these individuals make sense of what they have done? Consciously apolitical but deeply psychological, HIDDEN BATTLES examines the strength and struggles of men and women who kill and how they create lives for themselves afterwards.

The Last Survivor

Directed by Michael Pertnoy & Michael Kleiman

91 min, U S A/Germany/Israel/Kenya/Sweden, 2009

THE LAST SURVIVOR is a character-based documentary feature that follows the lives of Survivors of four different genocides and mass atrocities (The Holocaust, Rwanda, Darfur, and Congo), focusing on their ability to transcend victimhood and rebuild their lives in the aftermath of such horror. Rather than focusing on the past, the film examines the Survivors' lives today, considering their work as activists within the anti-genocide movement - each doing their part to ensure that no others suffer the same horrific fate they were made to live through. By presenting these stories of loss, survival, and hope side by side, the film highlights the commonalities these four individuals share both as Survivors and, more broadly, as human beings. In this manner, The Last Survivor is at once an inspirational call to action - pushing its audience to take action against the violence that continues in Darfur, Congo, and elsewhere around the world - and an intimate meditation on how we as human beings begin to pick up the pieces of a broken life left behind after such unfathomable tragedies.

Gerrymandering

Directed by Jeff Reichert

81 min. U S A, 2010

Right now, across the country, our two major political parties are gearing up for a once-a-decade war whose winner will control Congress for the next ten years, and possibly more. There will be battles in every state, and each will be kept carefully hidden from the prying eyes of average voters who only become more disenchanted with their government with each meaningless election.

Democrats and Republicans collude to keep these skirmishes private so that they can maintain total control over the ultimate political weapon: the ability to directly determine the outcome of elections. Why bother stuffing ballots when they can just draw districts? For the first time, Gerrymandering exposes the most effective form of manipulating elections short of outright fraud. After the 2010 Census is finished, will you know where your district went?
